

MAJOR ACCIDENT HAZARDS

Duration: 45 minutes

Questions: 14

Price Band: A

Course Outline:

The course is suitable for all members of staff working in hazardous environments in the oil and gas industry. It covers the potential for major accidents and the types of hazards that might cause these to happen.

Learning Objectives:

- L01: Describe the types of work that are carried out on offshore installations
- L02: List the different legislative framework for offshore work
- L03: Explain which major accident hazards are present while in hostile and remote offshore environments
- L04: Explain the basics of the safety case
- L05: Describe the safety critical elements in a safety case
- L06: Understand the employee's responsibilities with regards to the safety case
- L07: Describe asset integrity and its divisions
- L08: Explain the employer and employee asset integrity responsibilities

